

How many people here have gone fishing? I think I went once when I was four years old. I have this very vague memory of going with my maternal grandfather when I was four. It is actually one of the earliest memories I have. While I am sure I enjoyed being with my grandfather, I do know that I have not been fishing in 56 years. But guess what we are going to do today? That's right, we're going fishing!!

I am going to have to rely on you to help make a list of what is needed. I do know that you need a way to catch the fish like a fishing pole or a net, bait, and a place to keep the fish once we have caught them. Is there anything else we need to go fishing? Well, I know that I am always hungry and can always go for coffee, so we're going to have to pack a lunch of some sort.
